U.S. Is Winning Campaign Against Atlantic U-Boats

Great Loss To Nazis Is Sub Crews

American Toll Is 221 Merchant Ships Lost Near U. S. Shores Since January

Foe Loses 30 Subs

Unofficial Figures Place Axis Sinkings Near 30

Washington, May 29 (AP)—Despite heavy losses inflicted on American coastal shipping by Nazi submarines, naval experts said today that the United States was slowly winning the main campaign in the battle of the Atlantic. They emphasized, however, that only steadily increasing production of both war and merchant ships could clinch the ultimate victory.

The greatest present need, it was said, is for more defensive craft—subchasers, blimps and patrol bombers—manned by experienced personnel.

The great statistical results of the Atlantic battle to date are: Three convoys of American troops and shiploads of equipment have arrived in the British Isles without the loss of a man.

The supply lines to Russia, Africa, Asia and Australia—springboards for offensive action—are open, primarily, naval authorities say, because warships have not been diverted to protecting coastal waters.

On the other side of the ledger, 221 merchant ships of American and other nationalities have been sunk on the American side of the Atlantic since mid-January. Also on the loss side is the torpedoing of two and possibly three destroyers.

The Jacob Jones was sunk off New Jersey in March. The Sturtevant was destroyed by an "underwater explosion," which may have been either a mine or torpedo, in April, and early this week the Blakeley was damaged by a torpedo off Martinique in the Caribbean.

Convoys Pass Safely
The intensity with which the Nazis are waging undersea warfare in American waters is attributed by authorities here to their decreasing success, since the United States entered the war, in attacking convoys out on the North Atlantic. The fact that three great contingents of troops have been safely delivered to Britain is cited in this connection.

Thwarted in their main purpose of cutting allied supply lines, the U-boats have had to fall back on the indirect method of attacking where defense appeared weakest. For several weeks beginning in January most of their raids were made along the Middle Atlantic coast.

Then, presumably as counter-measures became more effective, they moved south, finally concentrating in the Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean. It may be expected that when they believe the time is right they will strike again at the Middle Atlantic. Meanwhile they may venture to the very mouth of the Panama Canal, as they have already struck at the mouth of the Mississippi and the St. Lawrence, or shell more coastal points as they already have shelled the oil refinery at Aruba.

The navy has made no report on the effectiveness of its counter-measures since April 1 when it was announced that 24 Axis submarines, including about half a dozen Japanese craft, had been sunk or presumed sunk. Since then there have been numerous reports, officially unconfirmed, of successful anti-submarine actions. These would indicate that in round numbers possibly 30 or more U-boats have been put out of action.

Even if that figure is true it seems likely that the greatest loss to the Nazis has been not in ships but in crews. Unofficial reports have put Germany's available U-boat strength this spring and summer at 180 to 300 craft. The experts say that if Germany concentrates on building submarines she can produce them faster than crews can be trained to man them. And when a submarine goes down for good there rarely are any survivors to report for duty on another vessel.

The great limitation on submarine distance operations is not fuel or supplies but the endurance of their crews, which on the average can stand 40 to 60 days on a trip.

Jap Admits Terror From U. S. Air Raid

Washington, May 29 (AP)—The Office of Facts and Figures quoted Minister of Justice Iwamura today as admitting in a Japanese broadcast that the American raid on Japan April 18 "terrorized" the population and threatened public morale.

O. F. F. said Iwamura, demanding vigorous punishment for persons who spread confusing rumors, declared: "It is needless for me to say at this time that it is important to act swiftly and severely in the arrest and punishment of all crimes that disturb peace and order under wartime conditions."

Especially when emergency circumstances arise, as happened in a recent air raid, it is natural that the people become terrorized, and it is to be feared it will have a serious and unbearable effect upon the peace and order of the country."

Judge Conway Is Chairman of U.S.O. County Campaign

Quota for Ulster Is Set at $28,500 and for Kingston $12,000 Is to Be Raised

County Judge J. Edward Conway has been appointed general chairman in Ulster county for the 1942 U.S.O. War Fund Campaign drive which will be conducted in Ulster county from June 8 to July 6. The appointment of Judge Conway as county chairman comes from Crandall Melvin, chairman of the New York state committee.

Ulster county's quota in the $32,000,000 national campaign to raise money for America's fighting men and the forces behind the lines has been set at $28,500 for the year 1942 of which the city of Kingston's share is $12,000.

Judge Conway will set up an executive committee in the county and in each township a town chairman will be appointed to conduct the campaign for funds on a township basis, each township being given a specified quota to raise.

The city of Kingston will be organized under the chairmanship of E. Frank Flanagan who has consented to serve as Kingston City chairman for the 1942 U.S.O. drive.

The U.S.O. is officially a vital part of the American war machine and every American wants to win the war. The folks back home may contribute their bit toward the war by keeping the spirits of the fighting man at high pitch. The better the morale of the fighting man the better job he will do. The more solidly the folks back home are behind the fighting man the better will be his spirit and to keep the men in uniform in good spirits there must be funds to provide diversion from the grim business of war.

The 1941 U.S.O. drive provided funds for a most worthy work during the past year but by the end of 1942 our regular army will have grown from a peacetime strength of 183,400 men to 3,600,000 fighting men, and our two-

Chinese Armies Battle to Ward Off Japs' Thrust Along East Coast

(By The Associated Press)

Allied warplanes were reported to have struck at the Japanese on far-flung battlefronts today while Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's Chinese armies fought to stave off a fierce Japanese offensive against Chekiang Province on the China east coast.

Countering Japanese claims, the Chinese high command announced that up to dawn yesterday the besieged Chekiang capital, Kinshwa, was "still in our hands despite enemy attacks of the previous night."

Japanese field headquarters reported the capture of the key city at 7 a. m. yesterday.

The Chinese command acknowledged that Japanese columns bypassing Kinshwa had driven 25 miles westward to the railway town of Langyu, where bloody street fighting was reported raging.

At Lanchi, 10 miles north of Kinshwa, the Japanese were said to have lost 1,000 killed and wounded in a day-long battle in which the invaders launched 10 futile attacks.

Ch'iang is important as a potential base for Allied aerial attacks on Japan.

Meanwhile, official Washington quarters quoted a Tokyo broadcast by Japan's Minister of Justice Iwamura as admitting that Brig. Gen. James H. Doolittle's spectacular raid on Tokyo and three other great Japanese cities on April 18 "terrorized" the population and threatened public morale.

"It is natural that the people become terrorized, and it is to be feared it will have a serious and unbearable effect upon the peace and order of the country," he was quoted as saying in a speech demanding severe punishment for persons who spread false rumors.

On the Australian front, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters reported that Allied airmen shot down four Japanese planes, damaged several others and blasted enemy bases in the islands north of Australia.

A communiqué said United Nations bombers set great fires at an enemy airbase at Rabaul, New Britain, and bombed and shot up a Japanese encampment. Other enemy airbase installations were attacked at Lae, New Guinea.

In the last battle of Burma, R. A. F. warplanes carried on the fight after the withdrawal of the last British troops into India, attacking Japanese positions and transports in northern Burma and raking Japanese river craft.

Schools' Supplies Unit Has Trouble Filling Its Orders

Problem of Getting Oil Causes Group to Place Orders for Coal With Three Concerns

The Supplies Committee of the Board of Education has already experienced difficulty in getting some supplies needed for the operation of the schools and on Thursday evening the matter of fuel oil for the ensuing year was brought to the attention of the board.

At the last meeting of the board bids for supplying 100,000 gallons of fuel oil for use in the Kingston High School were received. At that time the matter was referred to the supplies committee to study the bids. Since then there has been a government order made which prohibits the purchase of more than 14 days fuel oil supply.

Bids received at the last meeting are therefore off and a plan which had been devised for securing the entire winter supply and storing it in available tanks was also declared impossible by the committee.

The matter of oil brought up a discussion on the advisability of preparing the high school boilers for use of coal next winter. It was suggested that grates be bought so as to be in a position to switch from oil to coal if necessary. It was estimated that grates would cost about $900 and it was discussed whether it might not be advisable to order now. The question of cost was discussed and it was agreed that the cost of oil heating would increase the cost of heating the high school plant about $1,000 the coming season over last year.

Trustee Katz said coal could heat the buildings at a saving of about 35 per cent to 40 per cent over oil on the fuel item but that additional help would be required. With defense work training being carried out 24 hours a day at the Vocational School there is need for a continuous heat service during the winter and this would require the employment of at least two additional firemen. When this cost was added to the cost of fuel it was believed there would be little saving between oil or coal at present prices. However, it was said, in the event of inability to get oil the matter of cost would not enter into the picture.

At present there is enough oil in the fuel tanks to last until about October. With the supply limited to 14 days it was stated there could be no contract entered into for fuel oil and tank wagon prices would have to be paid next winter for oil.

Trustee Katz for the supplies committee reported that the committee and discussed the coal bids since the last meeting and it was decided to purchase 500 tons of pea coal from Leon Wilber, 200 tons from Phelan and Cahill and the balance, about 100 tons, from the Kingston Coal Company. There are not sufficient coal storage bins to take all of that fuel and the committee will be asked to retain its tonnage because of better storage conditions until the fuel can be binned in the schools. The Kingston Coal Co. will be awarded the contract for 325 tons of buckwheat coal.

The supplies committee reported awarding of a contract for installation of 66 window shades in the high school to J. L. Heiser of Kingston for the sum of $217.50.

A contract to supply four teachers' desks and four chairs for the sum of $228.40 was awarded to Stock & Cordts. A contract was also awarded the same firm to supply three tables and 16 kindergarten tables for the sum of $219.40.

Stock & Cordts was also awarded a contract to supply 107 regular chairs and 88 kindergarten chairs for the sum of $901.75.

P.S.C. Favors New Bus Line Between Kingston, Oneonta

Operating Pact Between Pine Hill-Kingston Corp. and G. H. Green for Through Service

The Public Service Commission at Albany has approved an operating agreement between Pine Hill-Kingston Bus Corporation and Glen H. Green whereby the two bus operators will establish through bus service between Kingston and Oneonta and intermediate points over their respective routes. The commission held that the arrangement will provide better service than is possible under the present separate operations by the two companies.

Pine Hill-Kingston Bus Corporation operates buses between Kingston and Margaretville and Glen H. Green runs a line between Margaretville and Oneonta. Under the present method of operation passengers traveling from Kingston to Oneonta must transfer with their baggage from one vehicle to another at Margaretville. This inconvenience will be eliminated under the operating agreement and each company will run one round trip daily between Kingston and Oneonta.

The trips will not be confined to the transportation of through passengers. Each operator will receive and discharge passengers at all points along the route, including those traveling between local points on the other operator's route. The through fare from Kingston to Oneonta will be the fare of each carrier to and from Margaretville.

The agreement became effective May 28 and will expire September 15 unless it is renewed with the consent of the commission.

Marshall Promises Invasion of Europe

Chief of Staff Tells West Point Class Army Will Total 4 1/2 Millions by '43

West Point, N. Y., May 29 (AP)—An invasion of the European continent was promised today by General George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, who told the West Point graduating class that American troops "are landing in England, and they will land in France."

Marshall said the army would total nearly 4,500,000 men by the end of this year, instead of the previously announced estimate of 3,600,000. During the past four weeks alone, said the chief of staff, the army has grown by 300,000 men.

"Your utmost endeavor, backed by high and unselfish purpose, will be required to bring this struggle to a triumphant conclusion," he told the graduating cadets.

"No compromise is possible, and the victory of the democracies can only be complete with the utter defeat of the war machines of Germany and Japan."

Gaining significance in view of the current discussions of high ranking American army officers with British officials in London, Marshall's assertion that American forces "will land in France," was the first definite statement by any American official that a ground offensive against the continent was part of American-British strategy.

Congress Asked Questions

Marshall recalled that prior to December 7, members of Congress, seeking his justification for expansion plans for the army, wanted to know "where American soldiers

Bus Line Fights Extended Service

Kingston Transportation Corp. Say Extension Violates Ruling

Basing his request that action be deferred on the petition to extend bus service in the Forsyth Park and Hurley avenue areas of the city on the ground that the Office of Defense Transportation has ruled that bus lines cannot extend routes during the present emergency, former Corporation Counsel John M. Cashin, representing the Kingston City Transportation Corp. at the public hearing Thursday evening, urged that the petition be tabled for the duration of the war.

Mr. Cashin quoted from the restrictions imposed on bus lines made by Joseph B. Eastman, director of the Office of Defense Transportation in Washington, restricting bus line extensions.

That the request of Mr. Cashin did not meet with the approval of some 250 men and women of the 12th ward and vicinity, was shown when Alderman Dorr E. Monroe, chairman of the railroad and bus committee of the Common Council, asked that those who were in favor of the granting of the petition stand in their places. All stood with the exception of the representatives of the bus line.

Several of the men and women in the audience spoke in favor of the granting of the petition. Alderman Victor H. Roth of the 12th ward, who had filed the petition with the council, urged that it be approved and said that the argument was in favor of the petition.

West Pointers Prior to Graduation Get Actual Training at Battle Posts

New York, May 29 (AP)—Among the graduating class at the U. S. Military Academy at West Point today is the first cadet group ever to go into the army with actual experience at battle positions.

They—the members of the corps who elected the anti-aircraft service—have just returned from posts of actual combat responsibility.

"We ought to be better second lieutenants for it."

Officers of the anti-aircraft artillery command called the innovation an unqualified success.

The experiment originated with Maj. Gen. Sanderford Jarman, commanding general of anti-aircraft on the east coast, and a leading exponent of learn-how-by-trying-it.

Planes Built In America Aid British

American-Built Tanks Also Figure in War on Desert; Planes Bomb Trucks

Reds Crush Foe

Soviet Troops Smash Nazi Tank, Infantry Assaults

By ROGER D. GREENE (Associated Press War Editor)

British desert fighters, heavily supported by American-built Kittyhawks and Boston bombers, threw back a German Panzer column today after it had knifed 50 miles inside the British defense system in North Africa.

Front-line dispatches said violent tank battles raged in a 50-mile-wide belt between Sidi Rezegh and Ain El Gazala.

A British communiqué acknowledged that Axis forces had driven within 15 miles of historic Tobruk as German Field Marshal Erwin Rommel flung massive tank forces into the struggle—as many as 250 in a single column—and backed at Tobruk's immediate defenses at many points.

The British declared, however, that no fixed British land positions had been captured yet in the three-day-old battle.

Free French troops, fighting with the British, were credited with destroying 35 Italian tanks in a single engagement.

American-made tanks manned by the British were reported inflicting heavy losses on Axis armored forces attempting to knock out Tobruk as a prelude to a drive into Egypt.

A British army photographer, who escaped after being a Nazi prisoner for 13 hours, quoted a German lieutenant as boasting: "We'll be in Tobruk by tonight. We've got Churchill by the throat this time."

But an R. A. F. communiqué indicated that British warplanes had already won preliminary superiority in the air, declaring that Axis air activity was on a reduced scale while R. A. F. planes constantly roared over the battlefield.

A single formation of American-built Kittyhawks was credited with destroying more than 65 Axis supply trucks, while American Boston (Douglas) bombers showered explosives among a concentration of 700 trucks.

British headquarters indicated that the outcome of the new desert battle was still in doubt.

For the first time, Premier Mussolini's high command announced the launching of an Axis spring offensive in Libya and asserted that since Wednesday morning the conflict had been developing "in favor of Axis troops."

British headquarters reported that British defenders of Tobruk, key citadel on the shores of the Mediterranean, smashed at least two Axis forays and were now engaging massed enemy forces in the vicinity of Knightsbridge, a desert track center, 12 miles south of Acroma.

Acroma lies 10 miles due west of Tobruk.

Overhead, British and Axis planes clashed in furious dogfights and swept over opposing lines in bombing and machine-gunning attacks.

A British war bulletin said two Axis columns had united around Knightsbridge, barely 15 miles below Tobruk, after racing around the British left flank at Bir Hacheim, the tiny "well of wisdom" oasis 50 miles southwest of Tobruk.

The British said one of the Axis columns thrust directly north in an attempt to reach El Adem, 15 miles south of Tobruk, but was hurled back.

London military quarters said Rommel's onslaught apparently signalled the start of Adolf Hitler's long-heralded grand offensive of 1942, and declared they expected the African drive to be followed by a German offensive in southern Russia, striking toward the oil-rich Caucasus from positions now held along the sea of Azov.

Conjecture also centered on a possible Nazi air-borne attack on Syria and Iraq (Persia).

On the Soviet front, the bitter 18-day-old battle from Kharkov continued inconclusively amid unconfirmed reports, broadcast by the Vichy radio, that Russian artillery was shelling the German-held "Pittsburgh" of the Ukraine.

Attacks Are Crushed
On the southern flank, 80 miles below Kharkov, Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's Red Armies reported—

Time Is Necessary To Get Complete Story of Kharkov

Main Part of Fight Seems to Be Over Without Clear Decision in Chief Theatre

By FRED VANDERSCHMIDT
(Wide World War Analyst)

The main part of the battle of Kharkov is over without any clear-cut decision.

That was to be expected. It will take time to assess the effect of the tactical, preventive assault which the Russian Marshal Timoshenko launched on May 12 against the German armies of the Ukraine, which were poised to strike toward the Caucasus but were caught off balance before they could start.

Also it is too early to calculate the military meaning of the counter-attacks which the Germans have been conducting since May 15 to the south of the original battle area.

The Russian communiques, worded with laconic brevity which tells friend or enemy very little, do make it clear that on the main front before Kharkov the Red army has dug into the positions it won in a fortified zone of great strength and depth.

Fighting of comparative violence continues in the sector Izum-Barvenkova, 80 miles below Kharkov, where the Germans have attempted to envelop Timoshenko's left flank.

The Germans say that they already have done this and that they have caught upwards of 165,000 prisoners and grandiose quantities of war material in a trap, but there is nothing at all to support such claims. Indeed, the semi-official Russian battle-front dispatches, while generally not conclusive, indicate an unyielding, continuing Red army defense along the Donets river line.

Undocumented German claims of this sort remind one of a stack of phonograph recordings of the same type, in key and beat, but essentially identical.

Always there is the "battle of encirclement and annihilation," then the "outstanding victory," the fat figures on prisoners, tanks, guns and aircraft captured or destroyed, which figures always are said to be "constantly growing." The invariable windup is that "the annihilation of remnants" of the "annihilated" foe is being continued "relentlessly."

Somewhere in between there usually is a phrase about "desperate but useless attempts" by the Russians to "break out of the German encirclement," which is known to the Teutonic military mind as some curious reason, as a "kettle."

This dogmatic double-talk went very well last summer, but in October, Dr. Otto Dietrich, Adolf Hitler's press chief, came panting back home from Fuehrer's headquarters with a handful of statements and orders of the day and announced flatly that Russia's last fully able armies had been "annihilated" and her power to resist utterly destroyed by vast encirclement actions at Bryansk and Vyazma, on the main approaches to Moscow.

Well—even the stupidest Nazi knows by now what a whopper that was.

Some January, however, the German press have been fed on promises of what would happen when the cruel, un-German snows of the Steppes began to melt away. The snows are gone and the Fuehrer has to deliver—at least an "annihilation" by communique.

Congress Might Take Power Away From Leon Henderson

At Fort Belvoir

Washington, May 29 (AP)—A rising tide of congressional opposition to nationwide gasoline rationing brought suggestions from influential House members today that Congress might well consider curtailing some of Price Administrator Leon Henderson's power.

Speaker Sam Rayburn and Chairman Lea (D., Calif.) of the House interstate committee which has been investigating the gasoline and petroleum situation went on record as seeing no reason to extend the eastern rationing program to the entire nation.

At the same time, Chairman Steagall (D., Ala.), of which the House banking committee that wrote the price control law under which Henderson received much of his authority, commented that perhaps Congress had "made a mistake."

"No such power as that man has should be given to one man," Steagall told reporters.

Although members of the Senate small business committee held out new hope for motorists by unanimously endorsing a proposal to allocate 3,000 tons of crude rubber for the fabrication of 30,000,000 retreads made principally from reclaimed casings, Rubber Coordinator Arthur B. Newhall said he remained convinced that nationwide gasoline rationing was the only feasible method of conserving tires.

"I don't see any other way to do it," the rubber chief told reporters, adding that he did not believe "any voluntary tire conservation program would be effective enough and quick enough to save the rubber."

Senator Ellender (D., La.) told reporters the retread plan, which he intends to introduce Monday, was designed to keep 20,000,000 cars rolling which otherwise would be forced off the roads when their present tires wear out.

Petersburg, Va., May 29 (AP)—At least 23 persons were given hospital treatment yesterday after two locomotives pulling a caboose collided head-on with northbound Seaboard passenger train No. 10 at Ryan, three miles south of here.

It was reported no one was injured seriously. Among those treated at Petersburg Hospital was Lucy Levister of Tuckahoe, N. Y., a passenger.

Ship Is Torpedoed
Washington, May 29 (AP)—The navy announced today that a medium-sized United States merchant vessel had been torpedoed in the Atlantic and that survivors had been landed at an east coast port.

General Is Imprisoned
Meanwhile, underground reports reaching Istanbul said Hitler, beset by new troubles at home and abroad, had imprisoned Field Marshal Gen. Walther Von Brauchitsch, former commander in chief of the German armies, along with 14 high Nazi party officials in a sudden purge.

No explanation for Von Brauchitsch's arrest was given, although previous reports indicated that some of Hitler's highest military chiefs had defied his life-and-death power over them and insisted that the Fuehrer give up his personal direction of the Nazi war machine.

In German-occupied former Czechoslovakia, Hitler's Gestapo was reported to have arrested hundreds of Czech officials, university professors and students and executed six persons as an aftermath of the assassination attempt against Reinhard Heydrich, Reich's "protector" for Bohemia and Moravia.

Fears of wholesale bloody reprisals were widespread.

"The borders have been closed and the whole protectorate is one vast prison," a Czech government spokesman said in London.

Heydrich himself, wounded in the spinal cord and spine by three bullets, was reported in grave condition.

Washington, May 29 (AP)—The navy announced today that a medium-sized United States merchant vessel had been torpedoed in the Atlantic and that survivors had been landed at an east coast port.

General Is Imprisoned
Meanwhile, underground reports reaching Istanbul said Hitler, beset by new troubles at home and abroad, had imprisoned Field Marshal Gen. Walther Von Brauchitsch, former commander in chief of the German armies, along with 14 high Nazi party officials in a sudden purge.

No explanation for Von Brauchitsch's arrest was given, although previous reports indicated that some of Hitler's highest military chiefs had defied his life-and-death power over them and insisted that the Fuehrer give up his personal direction of the Nazi war machine.

In German-occupied former Czechoslovakia, Hitler's Gestapo was reported to have arrested hundreds of Czech officials, university professors and students and executed six persons as an aftermath of the assassination attempt against Reinhard Heydrich, Reich's "protector" for Bohemia and Moravia.

Fears of wholesale bloody reprisals were widespread.

"The borders have been closed and the whole protectorate is one vast prison," a Czech government spokesman said in London.

Heydrich himself, wounded in the spinal cord and spine by three bullets, was reported in grave condition.

Held for Parking
James M. Hitchcock of Syracuse, was arrested Thursday afternoon by Officer Walter McDonough, who charged him with parking his car in the fire zone on Fair street. Hitchcock posted $5 bail for his appearance in police court June 3.

Rationing of existing stocks of rubber in Argentina has just been ordered by the government, the Department of Commerce reports.

At Torpedo School O.D.T. Revises Delivery Ruling Against Papers

Washington, May 29 (AP)—The Office of Defense Transportation has revised its ruling against newspapers making more than one delivery to news dealers daily.

The new order becomes effective Monday, the date the original order was set to take effect.

"Under the revised local delivery order," the announcement said, "newspapers may adopt either of two plans for the conservation of equipment."

"One plan sets a limit on the number of deliveries a paper may make in one day, the number to be determined by the population of the area served, and also requires a 25 per cent reduction in delivery mileage."

"The other plan sets no limit on the number of deliveries on the same day but requires a 40 per cent reduction in mileage. Under either plan, special deliveries and call backs are banned."

The mileage reductions are to be based on the total miles travelled in the corresponding month of last year, and apply only to motor or horse-drawn rubber-tired vehicles.

"Under the first plan, newspapers serving a commercial area with a population of less than 200,000 will be permitted to make only one delivery a day to any point."

"Papers serving a commercial area with a population of 200,000 to 700,000 will be permitted to make two deliveries; papers serving a commercial area with a population of 700,000 to 2,000,000 three deliveries, and papers serving a commercial area with a population of over 2,000,000 four deliveries."

"The revised order permits papers to adopt either of these alternate plans. Those which limit their deliveries to one a day are under the same restrictions with respect to mileage reduction as other industries affected by the order, while those which elect to make more deliveries than those provided under the first plan are required to make a greater overall reduction in delivery mileage."

"Figures of the U. S. Bureau of Census Series PH-1 must be used in defining populations of commercial areas for the purpose of determining the number of newspaper deliveries which will be permitted."

To Broadcast
E. R. Bower, county 4-H agent, announces that the Rock School 4-H Fife and Drum Corps will give a broadcast Saturday at 12:15 o'clock on the WKNY farm and home hour. Enryes Terpening is the conductor of the Corps, which was organized in 1931 and owes much of its enthusiasm to Miss Anna Devine, 4-H club leader.

Following the broadcast they will take part in the Memorial Day parade. Mr. Bower said this morning that he did not expect a very large showing this year of 4-H members in the parade, because of lack of travel accommodation. He said that bus schedules were not convenient, while parents of members throughout the county in most cases were using their automobiles as little as possible in order to conserve tires.

Aid Is Solicited
New York, May 29 (AP)—In an effort to open a new investigation into the alleged use of New York City material and labor to pave a courtyard on the Lake Mahopac estate of National Democratic Committee Chairman Edward J. Flynn, the Citizens Union today solicited the aid of Putnam County District Attorney Willis Ryder. Writing to the prosecutor, Union Chairman Richard S. Childs pointed out that a Bronx Grand Jury had failed to indict or fix responsibility "for the receipt and use of the city's property which occurred within your jurisdiction."

Car Catches Fire
A short circuit in the electric wiring in the automobile of Harry Caddy of 276 Clifton avenue, while it was parked in the driveway, caused the fire department to respond to a telephone call about 10 o'clock Thursday night. Damage to the car was slight.

Two Local Men Get Commissions

Two of Kingston's well known young men have received commissions in the armed services of the United States, one N. Jansen Fowler has been commissioned a full lieutenant in the U. S. Navy and will enter the Naval Air Training school at Quonset, R. I., about June 17 for a two months training course which will result in assignment to the naval air service. The second man to receive a commission is J. Richard Shults who has been commissioned a captain in the United States Army.

Both men have been associated with the State Guard and had prior training. Captain Shults for six years was a First Lieutenant in the 156th Field Artillery, National Guard, and Lieut. Fowler attended C. M. T. C. at Plattsburgh back in 1927. Capt. Shults has served as executive officer of the First Battalion, 56th Regiment, State Guard, and Lieut. Fowler was Second Lieut. in Headquarters Company, New York State Guard.

Captain Shults, proprietor of the J. R. Shults Paint Stores in Kingston, has been assigned to Transport Service and will report next week to the New York Port of Embarkation for further assignment.

A coincidence in the commissioning of the two young men is that in their particular branch of service they have the same rating since a full lieutenant in the Navy ranks along with a captain in the army.

Capt. Shults is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Shults of Saugerties. John R. Shults, having been a former supervisor from that town.

Lieut. Fowler is the son of Hon. and Mrs. Joseph M. Fowler of this city and since his graduation and admission to the bar nine years ago he has been associated with his father, former County Judge Joseph M. Fowler, in the practice of the law.

Following the two months training course at the Naval Air Base Lieut. Fowler will be assigned to active service either at a naval air base of aboard an air-craft carrier.

N. Jansen Fowler attended the Kingston schools and Cornell University from which he was graduated and he also attended the Cornell Law School from which he was graduated. He was admitted to the bar in 1933. For the past several years he has been active in Democratic political circles.

Judge Joseph M. Fowler served as a second lieutenant with old Company M, Tenth Regiment, during the Spanish-American war.

What A Nazi Soldier Thinks Of War

by Sergeant Mechanic Ball
20th Engineering Battalion,
German Africa Corps

(Excerpt from a diary picked up by the British in Libya and mailed from Cairo to New York.)

Side World Features

ATLANTA, May 28. The latest news is not so war in Russia, but that we are from the battalion. I've worked it out that under the circumstances we shall need five and a half years. Marvellous, isn't it?

ATLANTA, May 28. We started off the day again with an inoculation in the 10th house, this time against cholera. It goes on like this we shall surely be walking medicine chests.

ATLANTA, May 28. Last night things were pretty hot in Tobruk. Half the night German bombs were crashing down. Enormous pillars of fire arose in the air. I admit the iron resolution with which the British fight on from this isolated post. It was in their power to abandon it by sea long ago.

AUGUST 21. The Italians are gradually getting on my nerves. The whole living day these friends of ours sound the air raid alert—whether for a German, Italian or a British plane. They don't care a damn. Then they take to their beds and draw down their blinds. When the "All Clear" sounds they first poke their heads out cautiously and then come forth. We don't let this comedy disturb us.

SEPTEMBER 5. It's so sad I feel like biting my big toe for laughter. Our munitions extend down to Sid Omar. In order to afford free passage towards the enemy, gaps had been left in them. But last night Tommy packed one of these gaps with his own mines and early this morning one of our armored "bees" came down over one of them. Warlike humor. The serious side is that this can only be due to weakness on the part of the enemy. The English certainly can't tell where a gap is by the small. He can't see it either just too bad. The same thing happened in Bardia harbor. As soon as a supply-carrying U-boat came in, the Tommies bombarded the harbor. It is a murderous disgrace.

SEPTEMBER 14. Every day we are getting thinner, but that's no reason for going back home. Only if you have got to go, then you can't let me see that 3P

SEPTEMBER 24. Today that that Italian singer sounded the air raid alarm to see that 3P

times. That means 36 single calls altogether. The Italians by this time are getting to be a real pain. They shoot at anything in the air —providing it's far enough away.

OCTOBER 10. Today once again we got rations for three days. I had such a horrible hunger that I have already eaten my rations for tomorrow and the day after. What I'll eat then, God alone knows. Perhaps I'll get another foot parcel. I don't like it. I don't like what they offer us here for food. Piece of all places, where you need more to keep you in condition. The Afrika Korps has grown a lot. A few months ago a man could be spared, but today— They want us to build another wooden cross out of an old wooden box.

NOVEMBER 21. Choose any job you like, only not that of a sergeant mechanic. To Hell with it!

NEGRO BUSINESS LEAGUE ENDORSES N.C.R. PROGRAM

Tulsa, Okla.—Announcement has been made by Alton L. Holsey, secretary of the National Negro Business League of Tulsa, Okla., that members of the league will cooperate with the National Cash Register plan.

In a letter to the N. C. R. Company, Mr. Holsey said: "I am writing this letter so that our agent can take it or a copy along to be shown the proprietors of negro businesses when asking for their cooperation in this crusade. The word from an officer of the National Business League will let them know that we endorse your patriotic program."

$400,000 in Payroll Savings
New York, N. Y.—John J. Boyer, vice president, W. T. Grant Company, representing the Institute of Distribution and chairman of the Payroll Savings Committee of the Treasury Department announced today that approximately 700 retail stores involving some 400,000 workers have inaugurated payroll savings plans.

These include about 500 department stores with 150,000 employees and 200 chain stores companies with approximately 300,000 employees.

Kiwanians Have Varied Program

New Members Admitted at Noonday Session

A varied program at the weekly meeting of Kiwanis Thursday included a visit from the lieutenant-governor of the district, an address by "Jack" St. John and induction of four new members.

Induction ceremonies were in charge of Henry Bruck, who formally welcomed the new members and reviewed the principles of Kiwanis and the obligations incumbent on those who were received into membership. A change in the usual procedure was the appearance of the sponsors of those just being received, who presented them to the club and gave brief details of their personal history.

The new members are Howard S. Pangborn, new manager of the Olive Cooperative Fire Insurance Association and a former member of the Kiwanis Club at Delmar, N. Y.; Clarence S. Dumm, principal of the Kingston High School and formerly for some years a member of Kiwanis; James G. Norton, Kingston City Engineer, and Joseph A. Anderson, manager of the Personal Finance Co.

"Jack" St. John, who has won a number of public speaking contests, gave the address with which he took honors recently at Hamilton. The central theme of his address was Lincoln's Gettysburg address, which although it consisted of but 275 words and took less than three minutes to deliver, has come to be recognized as one of the great masterpieces. The speaker said that few of the 15,000 people present on the occasion heard the speech, but he felt that Lincoln was speaking primarily to those about him but to generations then unborn. "He is speaking to us today," he said, "that government of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth."

Donald W. Lake, lieutenant-governor of this Kiwanis district, was introduced and spoke briefly. He congratulated the local club on its record for attendance and then emphasized the need for "Kiwanis education" if members were to get the most out of the association and at the same time be of the most use in carrying out the objectives of Kiwanis. He said that the country today needs the service that Kiwanis can give and is going to need it more later in the "lean years after the war."

Teachers Request Leaves of Absence; Miss Hale Resigns

Several more Kingston school teachers petitioned the Board of Education Thursday evening for leave of absence from school duties and such permissions were granted. Among those seeking release was William Reardon, teacher at No. 6, whose leave will become effective on September 1, he having enlisted in the United States Air Corps as an aviation cadet.

John A. Scully, school mechanic, submitted his resignation effective May 30, 1942, and on motion of Trustee Feeney the resignation was accepted. The Building Committee was authorized to make temporary arrangements with Richard McLean, who is now assistant school mechanic, to take over the duties pending a permanent appointment.

Mabel A. Hale, teacher at No. 2 school, also tendered her resignation and that resignation was accepted with regret on motion of Trustee Rowland.

A leave of absence was also granted Elizabeth Donnaruma, effective May 1, 1942, and Margaret B. Rose, effective May 18, 1942, under the rules and regulations passed by the Board of Education on April 30, 1942.

Trustee Rowland for the teachers' committee reported that Raymond H. Porter of Rochester had been appointed a teacher of industrial arts in the vocational school beginning September, 1942, at a salary of $2,000. He will take the position left vacant by Mr. Seaman. Mr. Porter is a graduate of John Marshall High School of Rochester and has a Bachelor of Science degree from Buffalo State Teachers' College, where he completed a course in industrial arts, and he has had two years teaching experience at Indian Lake, New York. He is married and was reported to be in class 3-A in the draft, unlikely to be called for service.

The Kingston Teachers' Association on May 19, 1942, adopted a resolution requesting the Board of Education to pay to teachers in the armed service any difference between the salary they were receiving at the time they were inducted into service and the pay which may be given a substitute teacher employed to fill the vacancy. This matter was discussed at a prior meeting and the board agreed that since the persons engaged now to fill such vacancies were being employed only temporarily until the regular teacher is released from army service, that it usually became necessary to pay more than the minimum salaries and in some instances as much or nearly as much as the regular teacher was getting. A scarcity of good instructors, was said, made it impossible to go out and employ a temporary teacher without paying a high wage. After a discussion it was stated that in no place in the state was the plan apparently being adopted and on motion of Trustee Feeney the request was denied.

A letter of thanks was received from the Red Cross for use of the high school auditorium for the recent benefit concert. The letter expressed the thanks of the group for the part the high school chorus and orchestra took in the program. In view of the large number of organizations seeking to solicit funds in the public schools for various charitable and patriotic purposes the board felt compelled to vote on solicitation of funds in the schools without specific consent or permission. The resolution of Trustee Feeney to that effect was unanimously adopted.

The finance committee reported salaries of $40,844.28; vouchers in the sum of $7,194.38; National Defense amounting to $1,684.48; N.Y.A. National Defense bills amounting to $111.05 and federal debt amounting to $142.7. Ordered paid. The same committee also moved that Haskins & Sells, accountants, be employed to assist in closing the books for the year as has been done in the past. Adopted.

A report was also received from Dr. Henry W. Keator, school physician, calling attention to conditions in several schools and recommending certain changes to improve sanitary conditions. Most of the recommendations have already been carried out.

The Prisma Society sought permission to hold a dance on May 29 in the M.J.M. gym. Granted.

The Vocational Department at Albany forwarded $1,881.66 for use in national defense.

Superintendent Laidlaw reported on the registration and attendance at the public and private schools of the city. The total registration is 5,282 in the public schools and 1,169 in the private schools for a total of 6,451. The attendance percentage in the public schools for May was 96 per cent and in the private schools 95 per cent.

At the next meeting of the board the annual budget will be submitted for approval.

The Innocent Bystanders

It's a Battle of Men, But Animals Die, Too

Wide World Features

In this time of slaughter among men, there's no crowing among the birds of the air nor the beasts of the field.

Roosting on the sidelines while the slayers of wildlife turn weapons ever more lethal on each other, the world's game and food creatures too are feeling the shock of war.

And as the war wears on, the shocks are likely to increase. There have been random accounts of whales conked by depth bombs, ducks dying in oil baths and sparrows shot for food. These present only a part of the picture.

On the right side of the ledger for wildlife is the isolated fact that whales are not being much hunted for the duration. Following the Moby Dick area of the whalebone corset and the whalebone lamp, whales had a breathing spell until somebody discovered that whalebone makes fine soap and can be processed into fine food. Then modern weapons slew whales by the hundred where once they were slain by the dozen. Now the killer boats are on submarine patrol and the factory boats are carrying fuel oil, if they haven't been sent to the bottom. And the whales get along, despite the occasional depth bomb that may shatter the depths of their watery pastures.

Oil Baths Kill Birds

The torpedoing of tankers not only has menaced the oil supply of half the world but has caused the death of uncounted ducks and other seabirds. John H. Baker of the National Audubon Society reports that all along our Atlantic coast, the birds have been caught in oily slicks and left to die slow deaths. It is impossible in most cases for them to cleanse themselves (or for any kind hearted person to cleanse them) and they succumb to cold or pneumonia or starvation.

"The water is almost covered with this type of bird," one report reads. "A quarter of the 20,000 birds that wintered near a point on outer Cape Cod were badly affected."

Fish Can Escape

It seems unlikely that deep sea fish have been too badly affected by the oil; while it cuts off oxygen the fish can swim off under water easily enough. More important to the fishes no doubt are the barrages of bombs, high explosive shells and depth bombs dropped at sea on occasion. The experts say that a depth bomb kills every fish within a 200 or 300 yard radius. And still more important is the effect of the war on the international fish industry. Offhand one might suppose that the fishing had to be cut down. But in time of food scarcity every government exerts every effort to increase the yield of the pastures of the sea, without saying too definitely this is being done. United States officials reportedly are considering a revival of the World War I program: "Eat fish, they feed themselves."

Hunters Continue Active

As many hunters and sports fishermen as ever are expected to take to the fields of this country this year. There's ammunition enough. But officials doubt that they will go as far afield or stay as long as in normal years. Lack of time as the presence of automobile restrictions account for this. At the same time millions of young men are learning how to handle guns and if the trends follow those of the World War there will be a great increase in hunting after the conflict. Conservationists hope to build up a game backlog to meet this later crisis.

In Europe the crisis has arrived already for game. Though birds seem strangely unaffected by the din of the battle the huntmen of Germany have been called upon to kill for food. In England there have been reports of birds shot for food with or without license.

Here the fear is that misguided patriots will demand the extinction of some particular bird or beast as a war measure. That happened in the World War and wildlife friends are still moaning over the results.

YOU CAN wash a duck that's been soaked in oil, but if the duck is a wild one and has been well oiled it doesn't do much good. Investigators have found that oil-soaked ducks usually die no matter what is done for them.

It's a battle of men, but animals die, too.

Wide World Features

New Orleans—Back in the days when Egypt's sphinx was just a fresh-faced debutante, certain chaps were betting their burrinos that one rooster could kill another.

Today the sport of cockfighting, cleverly savage as ever, spills secretly over the United States, banned by law and essentially unchanged, and the "chicken men" rage privately against having to hide in the woods to watch the birds.

"It's legal," they assert, "to wring a rooster's neck and chew him up in cold blood. But give him a fighting chance—and you've broken the law."

In fairness to the chicken men, a fighting chance is what you get. Excluding the pit-trained bull terrier he is perhaps most vicious of all domesticated creatures and would just as soon murder his own puppy as to say how-do-you-doodle-doo.

On the other hand a game cock's death is never justified in the name of food. An owner would not consider eating a beaten bird than Jimmy Johnston would think of eating Ed Simon.

Actually, cockfighting and boxing have much in common, as the birds are required to spar regularly, protected by leather pads the size of five-cent erasers attached to their spur stubs. With something short of the college try, they also do road work.

Real Training Grind

"We push them along like this," demonstrated a veteran Louisiana chicken man, pacing a strapping specimen the length of his back yard. The cock had cold peanut-butter colored eyes and a neck of frosted bronze. Downstairs he was an opalescent black.

"He's a shuffler," the owner said. The cock chuckled profanely.

Special Picnic Facilities Arranged for City Parks

Kingston residents need not give up the usual Memorial week-end picnics because of gas rationing, since the Department of Recreation this morning announced that full picnic facilities have been provided at local parks.

The facilities have been developed during the past two years at Lawton, Forsyth, Hasbrouck and Clearwater Parks, and local residents will find them ideal set-ups for their family picnics during the season. Fireplaces, special picnic table and bench combinations, and running water are available at all four.

Department of Recreation play leaders have been assigned for special duty Sunday in order to assist in the recreation activities for picnickers at the four picnic areas. Equipment for many activities will be available, including shuffleboard, horseshoes, ping pong, handball, softball, baseball, volleyball.

All of the special picnic areas are within the city limits, and may easily be reached.

At Hasbrouck Park, new development in the past year has brought about the construction of three distinct picnic areas. The large pavilion has been moved to the second level of the park, and two large fireplaces are in this area. To the right of the pavilion another area fireplace has been constructed, and further facilities are provided in the woods at the highest level of the park. A path leading from the upper roadway leads to the picnic area at this point.

There are about 3,000 men in the nation's camps for conscientious objectors.

The Japanese yen is the equivalent of 84 cents.

YOU CAN wash a duck that's been soaked in oil, but if the duck is a wild one and has been well oiled it doesn't do much good. Investigators have found that oil-soaked ducks usually die no matter what is done for them.

It's a battle of men, but animals die, too.

Wide World Features

New Orleans—Back in the days when Egypt's sphinx was just a fresh-faced debutante, certain chaps were betting their burrinos that one rooster could kill another.

Today the sport of cockfighting, cleverly savage as ever, spills secretly over the United States, banned by law and essentially unchanged, and the "chicken men" rage privately against having to hide in the woods to watch the birds.

"It's legal," they assert, "to wring a rooster's neck and chew him up in cold blood. But give him a fighting chance—and you've broken the law."

In fairness to the chicken men, a fighting chance is what you get. Excluding the pit-trained bull terrier he is perhaps most vicious of all domesticated creatures and would just as soon murder his own puppy as to say how-do-you-doodle-doo.

On the other hand a game cock's death is never justified in the name of food. An owner would not consider eating a beaten bird than Jimmy Johnston would think of eating Ed Simon.

Actually, cockfighting and boxing have much in common, as the birds are required to spar regularly, protected by leather pads the size of five-cent erasers attached to their spur stubs. With something short of the college try, they also do road work.

Real Training Grind

"We push them along like this," demonstrated a veteran Louisiana chicken man, pacing a strapping specimen the length of his back yard. The cock had cold peanut-butter colored eyes and a neck of frosted bronze. Downstairs he was an opalescent black.

"He's a shuffler," the owner said. The cock chuckled profanely.

Special Picnic Facilities Arranged for City Parks

Kingston residents need not give up the usual Memorial week-end picnics because of gas rationing, since the Department of Recreation this morning announced that full picnic facilities have been provided at local parks.

The facilities have been developed during the past two years at Lawton, Forsyth, Hasbrouck and Clearwater Parks, and local residents will find them ideal set-ups for their family picnics during the season. Fireplaces, special picnic table and bench combinations, and running water are available at all four.

Department of Recreation play leaders have been assigned for special duty Sunday in order to assist in the recreation activities for picnickers at the four picnic areas. Equipment for many activities will be available, including shuffleboard, horseshoes, ping pong, handball, softball, baseball, volleyball.

All of the special picnic areas are within the city limits, and may easily be reached.

At Hasbrouck Park, new development in the past year has brought about the construction of three distinct picnic areas. The large pavilion has been moved to the second level of the park, and two large fireplaces are in this area. To the right of the pavilion another area fireplace has been constructed, and further facilities are provided in the woods at the highest level of the park. A path leading from the upper roadway leads to the picnic area at this point.

Stolen Gas Bought Back
Owners of a factory in Buenos Aires, Argentina, discovered they were buying back gasoline stolen from their own stock. Two of their employees made a habit of stealing 200-gallon drums and selling them to a third man, who, in turn, sold them back to the factory. The price was a little below the market quotation, and the owners thought they were getting a bargain. They learned the truth when the police arrested the employees. The factory loss was $4,000.

Bus Line Fights Extended Service

Members advanced by Mr. Cashin were arguments in favor of the petition.
Alderman Monroe presided at the public hearing held in the council chambers at the city hall with Alderman Oscar V. Newkirk the second member of the committee present. Alderman Andrew T. Gilday of the Third ward, the third member of the committee, was not present.
In addition to the two committee members other aldermen present at the hearing were Alderman Paul Zucca of the First ward, Alderman Paul Black of the Sixth ward, Alderman Fred L. Renn of the 10th ward, and Alderman Eugene Cornwell of the 11th ward.

"Selling Service"
Mr. Cashin in asking that the petition be tabled for the duration of the war, said that the transportation corporation is always interested in selling service to the residents of Kingston. "That's their business," said Mr. Cashin, "and so there is no feeling that they want to appear as opposed to the petition, but I take it no one wants the bus corporation to give service at a loss. The element of cost should be considered by this committee."

He said that in the final analysis the state public service commission passes upon the question. "If the council refuses to grant permission for the use of the streets to the bus corporation, there is nothing for the state commission to decide," he added.
"We are now in the war," said Mr. Cashin, "and our way of life is at stake." He said that the government has fixed rules under which all transportation lines must serve in order to conserve rubber and gas.

"Mr. Eastman, the federal director," said Mr. Cashin, "has set up eight rules by which they must abide. The seventh regulation is the one that is most pertinent to the question before the committee."

"This seventh regulation," said Mr. Cashin, "reads as follows: 'extension of existing bus routes and the inauguration of new routes should be made only to places of defense employment or naval and military establishments, or to meet some situation where failure to provide such additional service will have a definitely unfavorable effect on war effort.'"

Sought Confirmation
Mr. Cashin said that when the bus corporation learned that a petition was to be filed to extend bus service in the city that a telegram had been sent to the Office of Defense Transportation in Washington on April 17, and that on May 28, a telegram had been received to the effect that Mr. Eastman had set up a statement of policy regarding bus lines.
"That is the answer to this particular petition," said Mr. Cashin. "We don't ask you to deny this petition but we do ask that action be deferred, and that the petition be laid on the table for the duration of the war."

Alderman Cornwell of the 11th ward urged that in so far as the 11th ward was concerned the present bus route through that ward was satisfactory, and that if the amended route is approved by the council that the 11th ward route as at present be continued.

"Every Argument Favorable"
Alderman Roth said that "every argument Mr. Cashin puts up is in favor of the petition."

Mr. Cashin replied that the Office of Defense Transportation had told the bus corporation it cannot extend the route during the emergency and that the purpose was to conserve rubber and gas.

"If you decide not to defer action on the petition," said Mr. Cashin, addressing Alderman Monroe, "I ask the privilege to meet with you to present facts and figures."

"We have all been told how much rubber and gas we must conserve," replied Alderman Roth, "and without the bus route asked we are using each day with our private cars more rubber and gas than the bus line would use in a week."

Some Who Spoke
Among those who spoke in favor of the granting of the petition were Warren Smith, Charles H. Romer, Raymond Rignall, Mrs. Gerlach, Mrs. G. E. Hillson, Howard Shurtler, Raymond Libelt, John A. McNeil, Michael Mazzucco, Bertha Waterman, Mrs. Maude Jaudell, Cuthbert Marshall and several others.

Mrs. Gerlach of 9 Court avenue said she believed the time was coming when all cars will be taken off the roads. "Let the future take care of itself," she said, "as neither Mr. Eastman nor the rest of us know what the future holds in store."

Alderman Roth said that there were a number of persons in the 12th ward engaged in defense work who would use the bus line. He said there were 3,750 people in the 12th ward, and at least two-thirds of them would use the bus line. The bus company, he said, has never given the 12th ward the service it deserves.

Charles H. Romer of 320 Lucas avenue said he had visited 22 families in the ward and of that number 16 had told him they would use the bus line instead of their own cars.

Howard Shurtler said that the bus line in its telegram to the Office of Defense Transportation had only asked for confirmation of the ruling, but had not asked if it could extend the bus service asked.

A young man caused considerable amusement when he argued that the buses were running all day anyway and why should the bus company argue against extra distance involved in the extension since they were using gas and rubber all the time.

Roth Explains
Alderman Roth explained that he had first taken up the matter direct with the bus corporation with no result.

"We are just as patriotic as any other ward in the city," said Alderman Roth, "but we have been stalled off long enough. We don't need any lesson in patriotism."

Extra Two Miles
If the petition was acted upon favorably by both the Common Council and the state public service commission it would extend the present bus line approximately two miles, it was stated during the hearing.

The petition on which the public hearing was held was to obtain the permission of the aldermen for the bus line to use the streets. It is expected that the bus committee will have a report ready for the June meeting of the council next Tuesday night.

Among some of the arguments advanced last night by those who spoke were the convenience it would afford the residents of the affected area by additional bus service; that school children could be cared for more efficiently than being taken to and from school in private cars, and that women would not be afraid to return home at night.

One woman called attention to the fact that recently a young woman returning home at 9 o'clock at night had an unpleasant experience with a man who had stepped out from behind a tree on Lucas avenue, near Forsyth Park.

FIRE WATCHERS FINED
William Laurie Fyffe of Falkirk, England, told the court that he believed his first duty was to his wife and nine children rather than as a guard on duty against incendiary bombing fires. Fyffe explained there were two infant masks to operate in his household and the home was 75 yards from the nearest shelter, but admitted having twice failed to watch against fires at his place of employment. He drew a fine of $40 or 60 days in prison.

Record Value of $16,790,000 From New York May Pool

An estimate of $2.30 a hundredweight (46.51 quarts) as the uniform price of the milk dairy farmers of the six states of the New York milkshed have poured into the metropolitan pool this month, announced today by N. J. Cladakis, administrator of the New York milk marketing area, indicates that the return from their May production will set a new record high in value for the third consecutive month.

"The farm values of May deliveries," Mr. Cladakis calculated, "are expected to reach $16,790,000 without adding in the value of the butterfat and location payments prescribed in the New York federal-state marketing orders."

"The added payments probably will run in the neighborhood of $500,000 or better and should carry the farm value beyond $17,000,000. The record size of the May pool now anticipated stands out clearly when it is realized that never before has the farm return of any one month's pool topped $15,000,000."

"Expectation that the May return will be the richest on record is based on our estimates of price and production for the month, and realization of the larger return depends, of course, upon whether our estimates work out accordingly. Some variation is to be expected."

"The price forecast of $2.30 a hundredweight is exactly the same as the uniform rate for April deliveries. It will be the first time since 1920, except for 1933, that the blended price for May has not fallen below April, according to records compiled by Cornell University. The forecast rate, moreover, is 47 cents higher than the uniform price of $1.83 for May of a year ago and a gain of 25.7 per cent."

"Production is estimated now at 730,000,000 pounds, an increase of 4.3 per cent above the actual volume of 700,078,105 pounds of a year ago. The volume also is expected to be up practically 125,000,000 pounds from the April volume of 604,938,430 pounds."

Instructions Given In Event of Alarm At Baseball Game

At the baseball game under the floodlights at the municipal stadium on Saturday night the following instructions will be issued over the public address system in the event of an air raid alarm it was announced by Mayor William F. Edelmuth today:

First Yellow: Evacuate the stands and scatter around the grounds. Immediately upon an "all clear" call the lights will again be lighted and the game will be resumed.

Properly identified air raid wardens will be allowed to leave in their cars to go to their posts. Air raid wardens will wear their arm bands to the game, and can park their cars in a restricted section set aside by the police department so that they may leave the field easily in the event of a blackout to go to their posts.

No other cars will be allowed to leave except cars carrying essential officials.

Please pool your cars and all come in one car, so that gas can be saved, and also to prevent confusion in the ball park and on the streets.

Memorial Day will be appropriately celebrated in Kingston on Saturday with the annual parade that afternoon at 2 o'clock, in which eight divisions will take part. At night the Recreation will open the night baseball season at the municipal stadium when they will play the General Electric of Schenectady.

For the first time the personnel of the city's civilian defense set-up will parade, including the auxiliary police and firemen, city control center personnel, zone wardens, air wardens, demolition and sanitation squads, stretcher bearers, ambulance personnel, emergency hospital personnel, first aid group, Red Cross nurses and Red Cross Motor Corps. Indications point to the fact that it will be one of the largest Memorial Day parades held in Kingston in a number of years. The parade will form on Pearl street, at Clinton avenue, and promptly at 2 o'clock will proceed on down Broadway to Delaware avenue, disbanding at Delaware and Hasbrouck avenues. A reviewing stand will be erected in front of the city hall, from which the parade will be reviewed by city officials and guests. Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy is grand marshal of the parade, while John Melville is chairman of the parade committee.

Graduating Cadet

WILLIAM R. KRAFT

Among the cadets who were graduated from the United States Military Academy today was William R. Kraft, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Kraft of 130 Fair street. He was graduated from Kingston High School where he was awarded the prize for the highest average in mathematics during his high school course. He then attended Braden School, Cornwall-on-Hudson, prior to receiving his appointment to West Point from Representative-at-large O'Day of New York.

During his first or final year at West Point he attained the rank of Cadet Lieutenant. He was interested in sports, turning out for track, football, hockey and swimming and winning a Major "A" in track. He was a member of the plebe football team and of the Army "A" squad until an injury forced him to retire in favor of the other sports. In track he was noted for his proficiency in shot putting.

Upon being graduated today he will receive his commission in the cavalry and report to Fort Riley, Kan., for a three months' training period. Plans have been made for his marriage to Miss Helen Frink of Yonkers immediately following commencement exercises this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in Yonkers.

English Village Fair Will Commemorate Parish Founding

The English Village Fair to be held at St. John's Church, June 7 through 10, is an annual event in celebration of the parish's founding anniversary—St. John Baptist's Day, which falls on June 24. The date of the fair varies, of course, with local conditions. This is the 110th anniversary of the founding of the parish.

In England the Village Fair was often associated with a saint's day, the festival of the saint to whom the local church was dedicated, and the parish feels that it is in the tradition. Some writers believe that fairs as an institution had a religious origin.

Each year the fair hopes to improve its character as an English Village Fair. Features this year will be the naming of the sections according to the old English names, the bringing back of the town crier, and the addition of a master of ceremonies in traditional costume.

The slogan for the fair this year is "Good fun—Good food—Good fortune!"

Six O'Clock For Evening Dress Is Still Right Rule To Follow

An interesting question is whether a second hour of daylight added to the one already in effect should change the six o'clock convention for evening clothes to a later one? It is true that it would bring six o'clock in June almost to mid-afternoon, judging by the sun. But it is also true that since we have been at war, fashions have naturally had a trend toward day clothes, which in great measure makes the adjustment. In other words, six o'clock for evening dress is still the correct rule to follow—with modification made in the informality of shirtwaist styles of evening dress.

The 50th Year Is One To Celebrate

Dear Mrs. Post: My parents will soon be married fifty years, and we think this anniversary is one to celebrate. However, with the world at war and many of our younger relatives in the armed forces and their whereabouts unknown, Mother and Father think it unsuitable to have the celebration we have been talking about so long. And yet—while they do not wish us to send out invitations, they would very much like to be at home that afternoon to welcome any friends who care to come to see them.

Will you tell us how not to invite anyone and yet to invite everyone who cares about them—which means everyone they know. Will you also tell me what to proffer to the unexpected—yet expected—guests?

Answer: Since I see by the post mark that you live in a fairly small community, couldn't you stop in to see your parents' friends and neighbors and tell them just how they feel about it? That it is not to be a real party, but that your mother and father would love to see all of their friends who care to stop in.

If people in your community are tea drinkers then I think afternoon tea will be the nicest thing to serve, but it is rather hard to make for many people. A fruit punch probably would be easier. Better still, you might have both: some cakes with orange icing would be particularly suitable. But the best of all perhaps, something in the way of bread or cake for which your mother's kitchen is noted.

These Women Here's How Jenny Gets Her Gun

By ADELAIDE KERR

Wide World Features Writer

Wondering what America's new women's army will be like? You can learn a thing or two from Major Joan Kennedy, head of Canada's Women's Army Corps.

Major Kennedy made a recent visit to New York. When she and her staff assistant, Captain Phyllis Lee-Wright, passed through Grand Central station they caused more craning of necks than a visiting movie queen. Every passing eye took in their natty, brass-buttoned, khaki hued uniforms.

Major Joan Kennedy

What Major Kennedy said was of great interest too—especially to women who may soon be in army uniform themselves.

Good Soldiers

"Women have adapted themselves splendidly to military procedure and army life," she told me. "They get on well with the men. And the men have welcomed them, for they are glad to be freed of such jobs as cooking and clerking and get out on active service."

Then she gave a graphic picture of Canadian women's army life as her corps of 2,800 knows it. The one-time stenographers, waitresses, lawyers, and dietitians begin their recruit service with a 30-day training in squad drill, map reading, first aid, protection against gas, physical training, military procedure and army discipline and law. That finished, they are given any special training required for their jobs and then stationed at any one of 200 army posts or training centers. They do stenographic work, cook in commissaries, wait table in mess hall, care for stores of uniforms and ammunition, drive staff cars and light trucks. They draw two-thirds of a soldier's pay and most of them live in army barracks. They are up at 6:15 reveille.

Officers may doff uniforms and don frocks for an evening engagement, if they wish. But not the rank and file. When they have a date with the boy friend, they go in uniform. Officers can wear silk stockings, too, but the ranks get there in lisle.

Cap Angles

For a time Women's Army Corps caps were a matter of some concern. Some of the women were tilted at too exaggerated an angle. But now the caps are regulated to a tilt of 15 degrees to the right. The women are allowed a light makeup and may dress their hair as they please, provided the coiffure is neat and clears the collar. But colored nail polish and jewelry—except a watch and wedding ring—are taboo.

Major Kennedy, 38, blue-eyed and English-born, came to Canada with her family in 1911. They returned to England during the last war and then came back to Victoria, British Columbia. The girl who was to head Canada's first women's army took a business course, held a secretarial job for several years and in 1929 married Norman R. Kennedy, a Victoria engineer.

Major Kennedy says a lot of the members of her corps are married too.

One of their husbands, who cannot join the army because he is needed in civil service, may have voiced the thought of more than one when he said:

"It's a heck of a note when a man's best girl goes off to war and he has to stay behind and tend home fires."

Variety of Designs
For Church Linens

These motifs and fillet crocheted edgings lend themselves to altar cloths, surplices, and other church linens. Pattern 7293 contains a transfer pattern of 24 motifs ranging from 7 1/2 x 7 1/2 to 1 x 1 inch; directions and charts for crocheting; materials needed.

To obtain this pattern send ten cents (plus one cent to cover cost mailing) to The Kingston Daily Freeman, Household Arts Dept., 259 W. 14th Street, New York, N. Y. Write plainly NAME, ADDRESS and PATTERN NUMBER.

Blind Children 'See'
Not every little boy or girl has a chance to tour such historic places as the White House or Washington's home at Mount Vernon, but soon every boy and girl in schools for the blind throughout the country will be able to "see" these and many more famous buildings through their fingertips.

Under an educational model project now being sponsored by the American Foundation for the Blind, collections of models of famous buildings of this land and of the lands overseas will be placed in institutions for sightless children in all parts of the United States. Buildings of antiquity, such as the leaning tower of Pisa, and the Parthenon at Athens, will vie in interest for these young fingertip travelers with such modern edifices as a skyscraper office building, a modern dairy farm or an up-to-date factory.

Houston, Texas, Beautified
Keeping the real estate in Houston, Texas, free from weeds, rubbish and stagnant puddles is the job of the newly established office of Real Property Sanitation Control set up by municipal ordinance. The new department, which replaces the office of weed inspectors, was created to step up corrective measures against insanitation, and at the same time work toward city beautification. As a subdivision of the city health department, it is charged with enforcing all city ordinances regulating sanitary conditions of public and private real estate.

Officers Watch Sought
Search is now under way in Capetown, South Africa, for the watch of the commander of H.M.S. Prince of Wales so that the officer's son may have it as a memento of his father, lost when his capital ship went down off Malaya in an attack by Japanese torpedo planes. Commander Maurice Price left his watch with a Capetown jeweler for repair when the Prince of Wales called at the South African port, and failed to regain possession of the timepiece before sailing toward Malaya.

With Paul Jones
U. S. Marines were with John Paul Jones on September 23, 1779, when he uttered the famous expression, "I have not yet begun to fight."

New York, May 29 (AP)—Search for outstanding news inspiration was unsuccessful in today's stock market and trends continued to display a moderate amount of irregularity.

The list pointed slightly higher on average at the start but fractional plus signs were later erased in many cases and negligible losses were plentiful near the fourth hour. Dealings were slow.

In view of the fact major markets will recess tomorrow for the Memorial Day holiday, speculative and investment contingents were disposed to proceed warily. War bulletins failed to provide much stimulation either way.

Railway bonds improved. Commodities generally slipped.

Among stocks Allied Chemical got up a couple of points or so on a few transactions. Occasional support was accorded Western Union, Philip Morris, United Aircraft, Sperry and International Nickel.

Inclined to lag were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, Texas Co., W. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, Woolworth, Union Carbide, Anaconda, Kennecott, American Telephone and Consolidated Edison.

Sisters Re-open
Ulster NovitiateMother Cabrini Anniversary
Observed This Month

Observing the 52nd anniversary of the day on which Blessed Frances Xavier Cabrini came to West Park to see the property where now stands one of her child-caring homes, the Missionary Sisters of the Sacred Heart re-opened their novitiate, May 11.

The simple but beautiful ceremony took place at 11 o'clock Monday morning. The Very Rev. Msgr. Martin J. Drury, P. R., V. F., dean of Ulster and Sullivan counties, acted as delegate of His Excellency, Archbishop Spellman. He was assisted by the Rev. Joseph C. Connor of St. Mary's Church, Kingston; the Rev. Mr. Pericone, J. C. D., pastor of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church, Poughkeepsie, and the Rev. Father Egidio Gangemi, chaplain.

A short inspiring talk to the newly admitted candidates was delivered by the Very Rev. Msgr. Drury in which he clearly defined the reasons for entering religious life.

Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament followed.

At the time of the beatification of Blessed Frances Xavier Cabrini, November 1938, all the postulants and novices were taken to Rome, Italy, to witness the beautiful ceremonies of their saintly foundress.

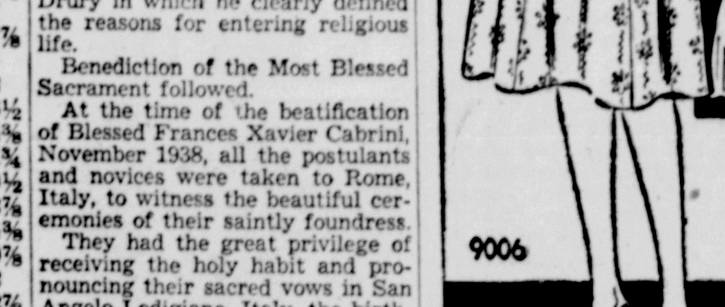

They had the great privilege of receiving the holy habit and pronouncing their sacred vows in San Angelo Lodigiano, Italy, the birthplace of Blessed Mother Cabrini. All remained there to complete their novitiate. During this time the novitiate in the United States remained closed.

The novitiate in the United States has now been re-opened at West Park. On this memorable day the Missionary Sisters of the Sacred Heart invited all young girls who are imbued with the loftiest of aspirations, in all parts of the world, to harken to Christ's call.

Of all places that were dear to Blessed Mother Cabrini's heart, West Park was the dearest; the beautiful house situated on a hill with the majestic Hudson flowing at its base, surrounded by hundreds of acres of fertile land whereon trees and flowers and fruit abound.

The daughters of Blessed Mother Cabrini now invite others to join them in their work for God. Any young ladies who are desirous of serving as Missionary Sisters of the Sacred Heart and of following in the footsteps of Blessed Mother Cabrini may communicate with the Rev. Mother Grace, delegate, Columbus Hospital, 2548 Lakeview avenue, Chicago, Ill., or the Rev. Mother Superior, Blessed Mother Cabrini High School, 701 Fort Washington avenue, New York, or the Rev. Mother Superior, Missionary Sisters of the Sacred Heart, West Park.

Recreations to Open Night Series at Stadium Saturday Against General Electrics

The Mayor to Throw Out First Ball; Nagy or Tulacz to Hurl; Game at 8:45

With appropriate ceremonies marking the event, the Kingston Recreations, practically revised since the close of the 1941 baseball season, will usher in the 1942 arclight campaign Saturday night at the municipal stadium at 8:45 o'clock.

Manager Joe Hoffman's hustling ball club, which has won two out of three daylight games this year, will take on the powerful Schenectady General Electrics, headed by the ever-present Len Hurley, crack first baseman.

Before the first night contest of the season gets started tomorrow night at the uptown ball orchard, Mayor William F. Edelmuth will throw out the first ball following the switching on of the floodlights. Charles Tiano, secretary of the Recreations, will introduce each Recreation player to the audience. After that it will be "Play Ball."

Nagy or Tulacz
Manager Hoffman, still in a quandary as to whom he will select as starting pitcher. He has received word that Steve Nagy will do his best to be at the game. If Nagy doesn't come up from New York, the local boss will call on Whitey Tulacz whose flipper has been acting up recently. Bill Thomas will be ready for any relief duty.

For the Dorian City club it looks as though Emil Battalino, the southpaw, will be on the firing line. He has been a tricky hurler in every game he pitched against a local club. Don Hurley also will have Ted Klonowski, Bob Franks and Marty Bieganski around for mound duty. Pat Stoknar will be behind the plate.

With the Recs and G.E.'s resuming rivalry again local club officials expect a good turnout to witness the first after-dark game of the current campaign. Both the Recs and Schenectady are ready for another of their struggles and for the fan who likes to see good baseball, the municipal stadium tomorrow night is the place to be.

Hurley Paces Visitors
The Refrigerators have a well-balanced club, paced by the slugging first sacker, Len Hurley. Players from other years, including Bob Grasso, Paul Briscoe, Tom Maletta, Don Buell and others, will be with the club in addition to added stars. In recent games the G.E.'s have defeated the Mohawk Giants, 4-3; the Cohoes ball club, 14 to 6 and the C.I.O. of Schenectady, 7 to 2.

Manager Hoffman will have Coleman, Allen, Van Herper and Breslin ready for infield duty. Downer, Ashdown, White and DuBois will be in the outfield. Whitey Kowalczyk is ready to take his place behind the bat again.

The tentative lineup:

Independent League
At the M. J. M. diamond Wednesday night the Central softball team defeated Matthews by the score of 8 to 6 in a regular Independent Softball League tilt.

The Centrals started off in the first inning with three runs from "Doc" Studt singled over second and Ben Freer rapped out a double to deep left center. Crosswell then homered, sending Studt and Freer across the plate ahead of him. Matthews came back in the ball game, however, with a rally of five runs on four hits and an error by Neil DuBois.

In the top half of the seventh the Centrals bounced back when Crosswell uncorked his second homer of the contest. McGrane tripled followed by Willie Vogt's homer which clinched the game.

The score by innings:

Cubs Are Very Thankful Nobody Bought Bill Lee

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Wide World Features

Chicago—All those guys who said Bill Lee, the Cub's veteran pitcher, was washed up have been caught blushing in the tide which the big righthander has turned while stepping along in one of the greatest comebacks of the season.

He registered his fifth win the other day in a game with the Phils, the Cub's second opponent on an extended eastern swing. But he can't account for his winning spurt. He says he's pitching, mechanically, the same as always, flipping up his right leg as usual in his big windup.

Might Be His Glasses
It might be a pair of spectacles that's doing the trick.

"Maybe I'm seeing better," he grinned before leaving, "and maybe that's why my control is improving."

He figured strongly in the Cub's pennant drives of 1935 and 1938, winning 20 and 22 games. In 1939 he collected 19. Then began the sensational slump—nine victories in 1940, eight in 1941.

Last December the Cubs hung the sale tag on him. Nibbles came from the Pittsburgh Pirates, St. Louis Browns, Cincinnati, Detroit and Cleveland. A glance at the price—$25,000—and they dropped out.

A professional ball player since 1929, Lee is getting a lot of encouragement from his early season record.

Usually Starts Late
"I've never been much of a spring pitcher," he insists. "Back in 1938 when I had my best year I was belted from the box in my first six starts and didn't win a game until about this time of the season. I'm feeling better now than I ever did and with a few breaks I think I can work back to the 20-game bracket."

Bill Lee ... thinks maybe he's seeing better.

Lee's biggest goal is to shut out the Cardinals, the only club he has failed to blank since coming to the majors. He pitched nine shutouts in 1938—four in a row to a tie a league record.

With the expansion of night baseball, Lee also hopes to work his first game under the lights, explaining that he never was given a chance because speed-ball pitchers were preferred.

Bombers Win Two Games This Week

Club Stretches Streak to Five Straight

The Bombers won their fourth straight game Tuesday night by defeating the U. B. K. softball team by the score of 8 to 7. Weinberger and Lukas toed the rubber for the Bombers with Trice behind the plate. Weiner was charged with the loss.

Ed Lukas, Ed Radel and "Bud" Schryver led the winners by getting two hits apiece for three times at the plate. Bob McCutcheon, who had not seen action in the Bombers' last nine games, drove in the winning run with a clean single into left scoring Schabot in the sixth frame.

Thursday night the Bombers continued their streak by scoring a 10 to 3 victory over the Barnham Aces. Demski was the winning moundsmen. Trice was on the receiving end again. The catcher homered with two men on while Demski spanked out a triple with the bases loaded. Schryver also collected three for five.

Score by innings:

EYE GIVEN FOR TAUNT
Jack Parry said nothing when approached at Sydney, Australia, by a woman with a white feather aiding in enlisting men for the military service. Instead he manipulated his eye until it fell out and he handed it to the would-be feather donor, who reeled backward and departed hastily. Lieut. Parry was on leave for hospital treatment of injuries which included the eye lost in Syria. He also was wounded at Tobruk, and fought in Greece and Crete.

Local Harriers Capture Five Firsts; Luedtke Breaks Record in Javelin Throw

Kingston High School's track and field squad dropped another meet yesterday, this time to the New York Military Academy at Cornwall by the score of 70 to 43. Kingston won five firsts, established a new record and bettered a season's mark but all of this failed to lift the local harriers to victory.

Ed Luedtke broke the DUSO League record in the javelin throw with his toss of 165 feet, three inches. Of course, it was Luedtke's best performance and one of the best in recent years by any athlete in the league.

Kingston won the mile run as Ralph Clapp came through in the time of 58.8 seconds. In every meet the young miler is beginning to show more stuff and is surely rounding into one of the best that has represented the local school.

Harry Stahl, also of the Ma-roon and White squad, went on to victory in the 220 low hurdles in the time of 27.4. Bud Gilderleeve, continuing his great showing of 1941, won the running broad jump with a leap of 21 feet 6½ inches. Scafidi leaped 10 feet 3 inches to gain the pole vault victory for Kingston.

Snead and Hogan Look Like Tops In Golf Tourney

Both Veterans Expected to Enter Finals on Sunday; Players Offer Services

Atlantic City, May 29 (AP)—Figuring that tournament golf will be ended for the duration within six weeks, the professionals are getting ready to pitch in and carry on an organized country-wide campaign to raise funds for the army and navy relief societies and the Red Cross.

Between rounds of their annual P. G. A. championship at the Seawview Club here, they got together last night and agreed to shoot the works. President Ed Dudley announced that the association would contribute the services of its tournament manager, Fred Corcoran, to line up benefit matches and the players agreed to devote a good part of their time to the program.

Of the eight stars competing in quarter-final matches today, six agreed to place themselves at Corcoran's disposal. The other two, Corporal Jim Turnesa and Sammy Snead, already have signed with Uncle Sam's armed forces.

The program, it was emphasized, will not interfere with the match at Detroit July 19-20 between the Ryder Cup team and a squad chosen by Walter Hagen, the proceeds of which will be to service charities. Hagen asked Corcoran to put him down for as many benefit exhibitions as he could arrange.

Both In Form

On the strength of their play so far, it looks like the tournament finalists on Sunday probably will be Sammy Snead and Ben Hogan. Both are playing at the top of their great games, whereas Byron Nelson, the pre-tournament favorite, appears to be threatened with one of his rare slumps.

It is not like Nelson to hold a 4-2 lead over a veteran like Joe Kirkwood—as he did yesterday noon—and let himself be caught on the 32nd hole. He snapped out of it to shoot a pair of quick birdies and beat Kirkwood, 2 and 1, but he still did not look like the real Nelson. He predicted gloomily, himself, that Snead and Hogan would fight it out for the $2,000 first prize. He could not afford many slips against Harry Cooper, the Minneapolis veteran, today.

Snead looked like a million yesterday in trouncing Willie Goggin, 9 and 8, and Ed Dudley did not look like the man to stop him today. He beat Goggin, 1 and 2, and round victim, Ky Laffoon, by 9 and 8, and he appeared to have too many guns for Corporal Turnesa in the quarter-finals.

The one that had the experts guessing was the engagement between Craig Wood, national open champion, and Jimmy Demaret, the Detroit star. Both have been playing steady, under-par golf the last four days, and their meeting looked like a real toss-up.

In High Gear

"PEE WEE" REESE

The Brooklyn Dodgers are rolling, and no small part of their momentum is due to the agile underpinning and magnetic mitts of Harold "Pee Wee" Reese. Reese is fulfilling the prediction of his manager, Leo Durocher, who said, while still in training camp, that he expected Reese to come through as one of the most improved players in the league this season. In the last 20 games the Little Colonel has made but one error in 86 chances. His batting also is progressing. Day after day, the shortstop who was snubbed by the Boston Red Sox, is keeping those Dodgers rolling on to what might end up in another pennant for those rabid Flatbush fans.

ON THE SPOT

By DILLON GRAHAM
Wide World Sports Editor

New York—For several years now baseball men have looked at the Chicago roster and then at the high standing of the White Sox in the American league race and have shook their noggins in bewilderment. They couldn't understand it.

They couldn't figure what held the White Sox up. On paper the personnel was nothing to get excited about. Most of the players were practically gifts. Yet Jimmy Dykes had his Sox in the midst of the pennant fight most of the way.

Now it appears that luck or the law of averages has turned against Jimmy, an astute pilot and one of the best jockeys in the loop. The Sox got off to a bad start and haven't improved. They're down in the second division and, barring a near miracle, seem likely to stay there.

Dykes had managed to put together a winning team by watching the waiver lists closely and grabbing players he could get cheap—players other teams discarded or felt were past their playing peak. So far as I can recall it has been more than a decade since the Sox paid any real folding money for a player. They passed out a good chunk to get Shortstop Luke Appling in 1930 from Atlanta but since then most of their seasoned material has been obtained on waivers or through canny trading.

Just check the roster: The Sox took a chance on Pitcher Bill Dietrich after both the A's and the Senators had given up on him. And what did he do? He pitched a no-hitter for Chicago and became a pretty valuable guy to have around. (Part credit for Dykes' success with pitchers is due to Muddy Ruel, the old catcher, who rates high as a tutor of twirlers.)

Joe Humphries came from Cleveland for Clint Brown and Thornton Lee, a 22-game winner last year, from the Indians for John Salvson. Lee has been of little aid this year and this partly explains the low estate of the Sox. Lee Ross and Edgar Smith came from the A's, and Joe Haynes from the Senators. Ted Lyons was caught young off a Texas campus and has been around nearly 20 years. The other twirlers are youngsters picked up cheap in the minors.

Joe Kuhel came from Washington for Zeke Bonura and Dario Lodigiani from the A's. The Browns didn't ask much for Myril Hoag, Wally Moses came from the A's for Mike Kreevich and Jack Hallet and Taft Wright and Pete Appleton from Washington for Gerald Walker. Wright has been a big bargain in other years but has been on the sidelines most of this season. Mike Tresch came in another trade. The remainder of Dyke's gang are youngsters.

You can tote it all up and find that the total is probably less than the Detroit Tigers paid several years ago for Freddie Hutchinson, the $75,000 Pacific Coast league twirler who couldn't make the grade in the Big Show. For what the club has spent, the Sox have done marvelously but the Comiskeyes are likely to decide soon that they must raid the treasury if their club is to get back in the race.

Great Yankee Keystone Sacker Is Batting .382; Pirates on Way Down

(By The Associated Press)

The Boston Red Sox come close to being the worst road team in the major leagues and this malady, which has kept them from resembling pennant contenders in the past, now has placed even their first division berth in jeopardy.

The Red Soxers are a real first class outfit in Fenway Park at Boston. It's only when they venture away from those friendly fences that they stumble.

The Cronin Clouters were stopped 5-1 by the Washington Senators at the capital last night and now have lost 12 of their last 17 encounters, all but three away from home.

This slump, which contrasts with Boston's feat in winning 14 of its first 21 games while playing mostly at home, has dropped the club within a game of the fifth-place St. Louis Browns.

The Red Sox were held to seven hits last night by Early Wynn, who helped win his own game by getting two singles and driving in two runs. Broadway Charley Wagner gave the Nationals nine hits and eight walks.

Another result of this contest was the loss of the American League batting leadership by Bobby Doerr, who had been hitting above .400 till this week. Last night he dropped to .379, three points behind Joe Gordon of the New York Yankees.

Gordon Wins Game
Gordon extended his current hitting streak to 13 games yesterday and won a 3-2 decision for the world champions over the Philadelphia Athletics by rapping a single with the bases loaded and the score tied in the ninth. The Yankees were held to six hits by Jack Knott, but Rookie Hank Borowy kept the A's in check even though giving nine.

Virgil (Fire) Trucks, strikeout king of the International League last year, pitched his first complete game for the Detroit Tigers in seven games. A double by Rick Ferrell knocked in the deciding runs.

The St. Louis Browns rallied for four runs in the eighth inning to beat the Chicago White Sox 6-4 and gain their sixth victory in seven games. A double by Rick Ferrell knocked in the deciding runs.

The Brooklyn Dodgers set down the Boston Braves again 6-4, with Kirby Higbe pitching seven-hit ball and choking off a Boston rally that netted three runs in the ninth, two on a homer by Max West. Higbe struck out Pinchhitter Ernie Lombardi to end the uprising.

Ida Kramel Will Open for Contest

Re-opening of Probate Is Ordered by Surrogate

Surrogate H. H. Flemming has handed down a decision which permits the re-opening of the probate of the will of Mrs. Ida Kramel, formerly of Ellenville, and opens the door for a contest of the will by Fred L. Kramel, a son.

The will had been admitted to probate in Ulster county surrogate's court on January 19, 1942, the decree having been made upon the waiver of citation executed by Fred L. Kramel, son of the testatrix and one of the distributees.

Later the son made application to vacate and set aside the waiver and vacate the decree and a hearing was had before Surrogate Flemming.

The decision just rendered recites that Ida Kramel left a daughter, Mary Kramel Nash of Maplewood, N. J., and a son, Fred L. Kramel of Newark, N. J.

That Ray Nash, husband of Mary Kramel Nash, called upon the petitioner, Fred L. Kramel, at his place of employment in Newark, talked about the funeral services of his mother, which petitioner had been unable to attend and then asked him to sign a waiver of citation and consent to probate of her will. He did not at that time receive a copy of the will, was not informed of its contents nor the amount of the estate involved.

A few days later, it is recited, the petitioner saw a copy of the will and found that he had been left a legacy of $500, that his daughter, Margaret, had been left $1,000, a similar sum had been left to a son of Mrs. Nash and the residuary estate willed to Mary Kramel Nash. The value of the estate is estimated to be $30,000.

The petitioner consulted a lawyer and started suit.

The decision further recites that the will in question was executed on November 7, 1941, and that about a month later, December 8, 1941, Mary Kramel Nash, the daughter, verified a petition before the Ulster county judge for commitment of her mother to a state institution for the insane.

On December 9 she was adjudicated insane and committed to the Middletown State Hospital.

It is stated that Ray Nash, husband of Mary Kramel Nash, told the petitioner that the execution of the waiver of citation was necessary to bring about adjustment of his mother's estate and that the estate was to be divided between the petitioner, his daughter, his sister and the latter's child.

In his decision permitting re-opening of the probate of the will Surrogate Flemming notes that the relatively short period between the date of the execution of the will and the adjudication and commitment of testatrix to a state institution, presents a basis for contesting the will with reasonable possibility of success.

Attorneys in the case are Clarence A. Hoornbeek of Ellenville, representing the executrix, Mary Kramel Nash, and former District Attorney Cleon B. Murray of Ellenville, attorney for Fred L. Kramel, the petitioner.

Important Research Made On Properties of Slag

The important investigations of the properties of slags, carried on by Prof. Richard S. McCaffrey and associates of the department of mining and metallurgy of the University of Wisconsin have recently been shown to make possible better foundry operation and an improved product.

The importance of the Wisconsin metallurgical engineer's work is shown by the recent successful application of the principles developed by Professor McCaffrey to the production of better cast iron in foundry cupolas. An Ohio engineer has applied these principles developed in Wisconsin to the solution of the problem of a large producer of highest grade automotive castings.

In the operation of a cupola for the manufacture of cast iron, refuse material must be removed from the iron. If this is not done it may cause considerable trouble and seriously affect the quality of the iron produced. The principles developed at Wisconsin have been remarkably successful in securing better cupola operation and in decreasing the amount of an objectionable impurity present in the cast iron.

'Oozlefinch' Controversy Rages Between U.S. Camps

In an effort to help settle the Oozlefinch controversy raging between Camp Callan and Fort Rosecrans in California, NCC Service-grams, nation-wide soldier news service operated by the National Catholic Community service, asked John Kieran, eminent columnist of the New York Times and wit-wizard of "Information Please," to step into the editorial fray.

Oozlefinch is a mysterious bird mascot of the coast artillery that "flies backwards to keep the dust out of its eyes."

Each camp claims information as to the origin of the Oozlefinch. An expert Kieran pointed out that the "oozie" in Oozlefinch may be a misnomer for Ouzle bird, a species peculiar to the Rocky Mountain area and studied extensively by naturalist John Muir, a Californian himself.

According to Kieran, the Ouzle dives and swims in water.

"The 'finch' in Oozlefinch," said Kieran glibly, "is an indication of sparrow blood. This bird-branch consists of seed-eaters and heavy builds."

Change in Calendar

American scientists favor calendar reform, a survey reported by Dr. W. E. Castle, research associate in genetics in the University of California, indicates.

Dr. Castle sent informal post-card questionnaires to members of the National Academy of Sciences, asking their opinion on the adoption of the proposal of what is known as the World Calendar.

"The World Calendar would be one of 12 months and four equal quarters," explains Dr. Castle. "This retains the familiar month names but adjusts their lengths so as to make them as nearly equal as possible."

"Each quarter begins on Sunday and ends on Saturday. It contains 91 days. There are 30 days in each month except the first month of the quarter, which by reason of having a fifth Sunday has 31 days. The number of week days is the same in every month, 26."

The geneticist explains that this is a less radical calendar reform proposal than others which have gained attention.

Prevents Lead Poisoning

Results of recent research in the prevention of lead poisoning indicate the importance of consuming adequate quantities of milk, according to the editorial in a recent issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association. "The deposition of lead in the bones appears to take place in inverse ratio to that of calcium," states the article.

"This," declares the president of the National Dairy Council, "makes clear the reason why some industrialists have found it is important to protect their workers by encouraging them to drink milk." Adequate quantities of milk and its products are the most reliable sources of calcium in the diet. Many industrialists, recognizing this fact, urge the regular use of milk at meal time and have milk served to employees during their morning and afternoon rest periods.

Lead poisoning is considered one of the chief hazards to the health of industrial workers. In plants where lead is used, even the dust is found to contain quantities of this metal.

Origin of Tapioca

Tapioca pudding, that staple of most boarding house menus, was first produced by Indians in South America, according to Dr. B. E. Dahlgren, chief curator of botany at the Field Museum of Natural History in Chicago. Farina, the South American "starch of life," is a product of cassava. Cassava is the source also of tapioca, only the latter product was imported generally from the Dutch East Indies. "The cassava plant," says Dr. Dahlgren, "is a native of tropical America and was thence introduced into the Dutch East Indies. It was cultivated before Columbus by the Indian inhabitants of the Antilles and Central and South America, and was one of their most important food plants."

ocean navy will have scores of new fighting ships and hundreds of thousands of sailors and marines of a total of some 4,000,000 men. Before victory is achieved this number of men may be vastly increased and the U.S.O. must stand ready when called upon to follow the men with their services. The federal government has approved the work of the U.S.O. and a careful cost analysis shows that for the next year it will cost at least $32,000,000 to care for the men under arms.

Last year U.S.O. planned 339 service clubs for the men in the armed forces and today there are 419. Next year U.S.O. plans to operate 450 clubhouses and over 250 smaller units. U.S.O. now has 21 clubhouses in eight trans-oceanic bases including Hawaii, Alaska, Canal Zone, Trinidad and with our rapidly expanding forces overseas there is an increasing demand for these clubs. Entertainment and travel services must be maintained for the men in uniform and the slogan of the campaign "When you give to the U.S.O. you give to a man you know" sums up the need and the purpose of U.S.O. contributions.

There are six national agencies which comprise the U.S.O. They are the Y. M. C. A., National Catholic Community Service, Salvation Army, Y. W. C. A., Jewish Welfare Board and the National Travelers Aid Association. Thus the three principal religious faiths of the nation are represented. Most of the services offered by U.S.O. are free to men in the service including clubhouse use, dances, games and the camp shows as well as many services offered while service men are traveling in troop movements or on furlough.

The Ulster county U.S.O. campaign organization is now being formed so that it may go into high gear June 8 and be brought to a successful conclusion by July 6 with the quota of $28,500 attained.

might be called upon to fight and just what was the urgent necessity for the army that we were endeavoring to organize and train."

"In reply I usually commented on the fact that we had previously fought in France, Italy, and Germany; in Africa, and the Far East, in Siberia and northern Russia," Marshall said. "No one could tell what the future might hold for us. But one thing was clear to me, we must be prepared to fight anywhere, and on short notice."

"The possibilities were not overdrawn, for today we find American soldiers throughout the Pacific in Burma, China, and India. They have flown over Japan. They are landing in England, and they will land in France. We are determined that before the sun sets on this terrible struggle, our flag will be recognized throughout the world as a symbol of freedom on the one hand and of overwhelming power on the other."

The chief of staff said the confusion which existed in the minds of many Americans before Pearl Harbor was a thing of the past, and the American people, "solidly behind the army, are supporting wholeheartedly every measure for the prosecution of the war, and they are meeting with calm courage the vicissitudes inevitable in a war extending to the four corners of the earth."

"This attitude," Marshall said,

Accepted as Cadet

Aaron Adin has just received word from the war department that he has been accepted as an aviation cadet. He enlisted in the armed services of the nation some time ago. He is a son of the late Morris Adin, a veteran of the first World War, who died in June, 1940, in the Veterans Hospital in New York city. Mr. Adin will march in the first division of the Memorial Day parade Saturday afternoon and Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, grand marshal, and John Melville, chairman of the parade committee, is asking all army and navy men home on a furlough to meet at Pearl street and Clinton avenue Saturday afternoon to take part in the parade, which starts at 2 o'clock.

Volunteers Needed

More volunteers for the Auxiliary Police force now being organized are needed, according to a call issued by Chief of Police Phinney. A man must be not less than 5 feet 8 inches tall; weight at least 140 pounds, be in good health and between the ages of 21 and 50. Men having these qualifications are urged to register at the Volunteer Office, 247 Clinton avenue, for an interview.

Usual Traffic Missing

The usual day-before-the-holiday traffic through Kingston was missing this year, as the Kingston police department reported that automobile traffic was extremely light. In former years, before there was gas rationing, traffic on the day before a holiday was always extremely heavy, especially traffic from New York city and points in New Jersey.

Can't Wait

Minneapolis—A little, old man walked into the Red Cross chapter house here and bellowed, "I want to go to Pearl Harbor, and I want to go right away!" When asked if he was willing to wait a few minutes, he replied, "Yes, if it ain't too long. I'm sick and tired of living on a pension. I want to fight for my country."

It is estimated that one out of every 1,000 persons in the U. S. suffers from rheumatism and allied diseases.
